Dressing the set and the people of HBO's 'Boardwalk Empire'

By Kate O'Hare

The world of Atlantic City, N.J., in 1920 is not so far removed from our own in many ways — houses have electricity, people talk on telephones and drive cars, men wear suits and ties, and women wear shorter skirts.

But for all the ways it's similar, it's different in a thousand others, big and small.

Airing Sundays on HBO, the freshman drama "Boardwalk Empire" (already renewed for its second season) lives in this bygone era, and it's the job of such men as production designer Bob Shaw and costume designer John Dunn to bring it to life.

On a chilly April night, Shaw stands on his creation — a solidly constructed, 300-foot-long recreation of the Boardwalk in 1920 — and talks about where it all began.

"People always ask, 'Does this re-create a certain section of the Boardwalk?'" he says. "And the answer is, no. It's greatest hits of certain buildings that we liked. The building over there" — he gestures toward the Canton Tea Parlor with its large sign advertising "Chop Suey" — "the Chop Suey building, we just saw it in a photograph, and we just loved it."

Steve Buscemi stars as Atlantic City Treasurer Nucky Thompson, who controls the purse strings, and thereby everything else (including the now-illegal liquor trade) in the seaside resort.

He lives on the eighth floor of the Ritz-Carlton Hotel, which on the show is a blend of a real door and lobby just off the Boardwalk with computer-generated upper floors (Nucky's suite is built on a soundstage).

The real Ritz-Carlton, now condos, is a solid-looking brick structure, but the Ritz of "Boardwalk Empire" is light, elegant and fancifully decorated with seashells and mermaids.

Shaw admits its design owes more to Atlantic City's Traymore Hotel, and as for the mermaids, etc., he says, "That's a little bit of Childs Restaurant in Coney Island."

According to Shaw, the Boardwalk, built behind a protective wall of shipping containers in the Greenpoint section of Brooklyn (the sand is real, but the ocean beyond is computer-generated trickery), is perhaps the largest outdoor set constructed in the New York area since before 1920.

Kelly Macdonald and Steve Buscemi star in "Boardwalk Empire" Sundays on HBO.

IN FOCUS

"Sarah Palin's Alaska," tlc.discovery.com/tv/sarah-palin-alaska/

On Sunday, TLC launches an eight-part documentary series in which the former Alaska governor and 2008 GOP vice presidential candidate gives a glimpse into her home life and heads out on a series of adventures that showcase the attractions and industries of her home state. The home page features video previews, background information and a map of Alaska that shows the locations for various episodes.

IN FOCUS

"Boardwalk Empire,"
www.hbo.com/boardwalk-empire/index.html

Fans who have been enjoying the period drama from HBO, airing Sundays, may wonder how producers re-created the Atlantic City Boardwalk from 1920. This section of the official home page offers information and illustrations that take viewers into the creative process of bringing the past to life. There is also now an iPad app, along with a way for viewers to use photos of "Boardwalk" characters as online avatars.

"Glory Daze,"

www.tbs.com/shows/glorydaze/
Premiering Tuesday on TBS, the scripted comedy follows four freshmen as they negotiate college life and choose just the right fraternity. The official home page offers video clips, bios of both the cast and the characters, an episode schedule, a poll and message boards. There are also offers for a weekly TBS newsletter and a link to the show's official Facebook page. There are also games, but they don't seem directly connected to the show.

UWA Martial Arts 250 Broadway, Bayonne, NJ Call 201-437-1820

Keep this date in mind. It is very important for all those people who are interested in martial arts and helping kids. November 20, 2010 is the time when the N.J. State Director Grand Master Dr. Austin Wright Sr. and Team USA will be holding their 2010 U.S. Open Regional Martial Arts Championship held at St. Andrew's School, located 126 Broadway, Bayonne, NJ 07002. Registration begins at 8:00 am filled with 5 Point Sparring, Kata, Musical Kata, Weapons, Breaking and Continuous Sparring. UWA Academy couldn't be happier to give a generous portion of the earnings from this tournament to Saint Jude's Children Hospital. This is a great way for people to give back to the community. To help make that happen, UWA is seeking business sponsorship, volunteers, along with local and state support.

What sets UWA Martial Arts Academy apart from other martial arts and karate schools is the complete dedication they maintain for a well-rounded person, rather than just an accomplished expert in the sport. They train their students to be upstanding members of their community. With this type of approach to their system of training, they have been acknowledged by Bayonne's Mayor Mark Smith as Outstanding Community Leaders. They are the official U.S. National Team "Alliance" International N.J. Branch and Ranked #1 by the Alliance for winning numerous World Championships in 2005 and 2010.

UWA Academies Training and Safety Center are located at 250 Broadway in Bayonne and 1683 Kennedy Blvd. in Jersey City, NJ. And if you or your child (ages 3 & up) want to learn controlled self-defense and attain self-confidence along with discipline, this is the place in which to enroll them. To learn Combined Martial Arts of Karate, Jiu-Jitsu, MMA, Self-Defense and Cardio Kick Boxing, After School UWA Black Belt Leadership Academy Martial Arts is the place to go. When in doubt check it out! Belts are earned and practicality is emphasized.

The school was founded by Public School Educator Austin Wright Sr. who is the mentor to all those involved in student training. He works closely with directors Chester Kaminski, Public School Principal and Head Coach for Team USA Dr. Jim Thomas for the upcoming "Fighting for a Cure" Championship.

The Championship is a National Martial Arts Team "Alliance Qualifier," All styles, systems and ranks are welcome. Over 400 trophies will be awarded including Grand Championship trophies.

Buy your ticket or sign up now and be part of this competition as well as part of the training center with your peers.

A Champion's journey begins here and not to be missed.

Vincenzo Calderone A Remembrance

A man who was an integral part of the everyday life in Bayonne has passed away. However, a simple obituary notice in the newspaper will not be enough to show the personality of this "down-to-earth" regular guy who was a warm-hearted, outgoing individual. His name at birth was Vincenzo Calderone. Nevertheless, everyone in town knew him as simply "Vinnie." Vinnie had so much energy about him that he reached out and energized whoever he associated with. And you had a tendency to seek him out because he was such an "up" person.

We at TV Talk Magazine knew him for almost thirty-five years since Vinnie was one of our very first advertisers. He was featured on the cover of this magazine back in 1976 when he was the pastry chef/manager of a bakery named Etna's on Broadway. Many years later Vinnie Calderone opened his own bakery on Avenue C called Antonio and Vincent's Italian Bakery. It seems he was always covered with flour from all the baking he did. You could see the kitchen from the bakeries counter, and you could always view Vinnie creating something delicious before placing it in one of his many ovens. The man was a dynamo, both back near the ovens or outside talking to his customers. His baked goods were inviting, but Vinnie made every visit exciting, meaningful and personal.

Vinnie Calderone will always be remembered in Bayonne, even as generations change. He has already left his mark, and that cannot be erased. Vinnie came to this country with a dream and a vision which was mostly fulfilled. His love for his family came naturally. His love of people was open and undeniable. He always found the good within us all, and we will always recall the goodness that came from Vinnie Calderone's heart.

BEFORE AND AFTER IN THE SOAPS

ALL MY CHILDREN: While searching for Nick Pearson, Ryan and Greenlee declared their love for one another and shared a passionate kiss. Trying to get over Ryan, Madison agreed to a casual date with Logan. Caleb turned down JR's request that he stop Marissa from pursuing the custody fight in return for JR not using Asher. Coming: Greenlee learns if she's judged innocent or guilty.

BOLD AND BEAUTIFUL: Thomas and Brooke's publicity stunt for the men's line had a lasting impact when it appeared to Brooke, though Ridge didn't believe her innocence in the matter. Stephanie listened to Brooke's promise not to be involved in any more scandals, warning her that if she does, Brooke will be out the door. Coming: Stephanie hopes to create a better future for Dayzee.

DAYS OF OUR LIVES: Nicole found the camera and watched Sami confess to shooting EJ. Confronted by Nicole, who demanded access to Sydney as the price of turning over the evidence, Sami attacked her, which caused Nicole to hit her head. When Nicole told Rafe that Sami tried to kill her, he agreed to give Nicole visits with Sydney, but assured Sami that he has a plan to nail Nicole. Coming: Jennifer discovers things have changed in Salem.

DESPERATE HOUSEWIVES: Having invited Carmen, Hector and Grace to a lavish Thanksgiving feast, hosts Gabrielle and Carlos discovered some unexpected news about the Sanchez family that could threaten their time with Grace. Bree learned several family secrets when she invited Keith's parents to a holiday celebration at her home. Coming: Secrets have a way of being exposed.

GENERAL HOSPITAL: Hospitalized with a dangerous infection, Robin feared the worst when she saw Lisa standing over her bed with a syringe, but it turned out to be medication for another patient. A furious Lisa threatened to have Robin fired and tried luring Patrick to Jake's, supposedly to make peace. Coming: Robin vows it's not over between her and Lisa.

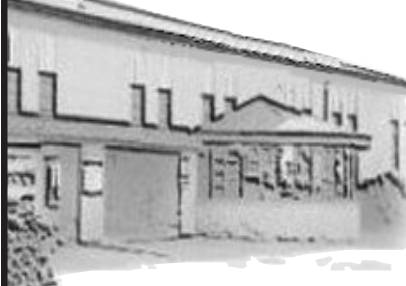

GOSSIP GIRL: As unlikely as it seems for Chuck and Blair to ever be "just friends," considering their intense history of alternating love and hate, the duo decidated that it's in each of their best interests to drop the past and end the constant vindictiveness. Nate confronted Juliet after he discovered the secret that she's done everything to keep hidden from her new crowd, but would his actions be enough to protect the target of her wrath? Coming: It looks like Juliet isn't keeping her Romeo.

ONE LIFE TO LIVE: Crushed when he was sentenced to serve 10 years in prison for Eli's murder, Cole broke up with Starr. When a grieving Starr saw James, she pulled him into an intense kiss and wanted to have sex, but James refused. As Viki voiced her concern to Charlie that he could be the father of Echo's son, Clint warned Echo not to reveal that they're Rex's parents, or he'll have Rex sent to prison. Coming: Rex demands to know what else has been hidden from him.

YOUNG AND RESTLESS: After informing Meggie that the drugs she dosed him with were fakes, Victor went to see Nikki and found her in Deacon's arms. Despite Nikki's immediate regret after she was told the truth about Meggie, Victor told Nikki they're finished and walked out. Kyle read the article about Diane and demanded to know if everything Phyllis wrote is true. Coming: Nikki is devastated by the realization that she's lost everything.

BAKED TREATS EVERYONE CAN ENJOY

Now is the time of year when everyone starts thinking seriously about baking. Many people will be making treats this week for Halloween parties. Then, just a few weeks later, comes Thanksgiving - and, before you know it, you're baking cookies for the holidays.

So I'm especially happy when sweet baked good recipes almost have built-in guarantees that they'll be cooked correctly. That's the case with biscotti.

The name of these popular Italian cookies explains why: They're "twice cooked." You shape the dough into a large, oblong, flattened loaf and bake it once; then, when the loaf has cooled, you cut it crosswise into thin slices, place them flat on the baking sheet, and bake a second time until they're browned and crisp. The dough itself is fairly easy to make, although a stand mixer makes the work go even faster.

Three decades ago, the only biscotti you could find were simple anise-flavored varieties, sometimes embellished with almonds or hazelnuts. Nowadays these cookies come in great variety, containing all kinds of different flavorings or nuts. (I use pistachios in the recipe here, but you could substitute almonds, hazelnuts, pine nuts or others of your choice.) To my surprise, however, many bakers still make a mistake with them - not undercooking them, but cutting them too thick, so that what should be brittle and shatter easily with the first bite instead runs the risk of sending you to the dentist!

Baked and sliced correctly, biscotti are indeed a wonderful treat. Store them in an airtight container and they'll keep for several weeks, ready to enjoy as an accompaniment to a fruit dessert, a scoop of ice cream, a cup of coffee, a glass of dessert wine or a tumbler of cold milk.

CHOCOLATE AND PISTACHIO BISCOTTI

- Makes 3 dozen
- 2 large eggs
 - 1 tablespoon amaretto liqueur (optional)
 - 1/4 cup dry white wine
 - 1 cup sugar
 - Pinch of salt
 - 2 1/4 cups all-purpose flour, plus more as needed
 - 1/2 cup cocoa powder
 - 1 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
 - 1 cup shelled pistachio nuts, coarsely chopped with a large knife or cleaver
 - 1 large egg white, lightly beaten
- Preheat the oven to 350 degrees. Line a large baking sheet with baking parchment paper. Lightly spray the paper with nonstick cooking spray.

In a medium mixing bowl, beat the eggs with a fork until foamy. Whisk in the amaretto and wine. Gradually beat in the sugar and salt until well blended. Set aside.

If using a stand mixer, sift the flour, cocoa powder and baking powder into the work bowl. Using the paddle attachment, turn on the machine to the low setting and add the egg mixture. Raise the speed to medium and beat until a dough forms on the paddle; if the dough is very sticky, beat in up to 1/4 cup more flour. Change to the dough hook and continue beating, while gradually adding the pistachios. Turn off the machine. Scrape the dough onto a lightly floured work surface and knead by hand until smooth, about 1 minute.

If making the dough by hand, sift the dry ingredients into a large mixing bowl. Make a well in the center, add the egg mixture and stir with a fork until the dry ingredients are evenly moistened and form a crumbly dough. Turn out onto a lightly floured work surface and, gradually incorporating the pistachios, knead by hand until smooth.

Shape the dough into a log 12 inches long and 4 inches wide and place it on the prepared baking sheet. Brush with the beaten egg white. Bake until the log has expanded and is dark brown, 25 to 30 minutes. Transfer the baking sheet to a wire rack to cool the log for 15 minutes. Meanwhile, reduce the oven temperature to 300 degrees.

Using a serrated bread knife, cut the log diagonally into slices about 1/3 inch thick. Place the slices flat, side by side on the baking sheet. Bake until they look dry and dark brown, about 20 minutes. With a spatula, transfer the biscotti to the wire rack to cool completely before serving or storing in an airtight container.

Bayonne Police Invite Public to Drop Off Unwanted, Unused, and Expired Medicine on Saturday, November 13

Mayor Mark A. Smith, Public Safety Director Jason O'Donnell, and Police Chief Robert Kubert announced that the Bayonne Police Department invites the public to drop off unwanted, unused, and expired medicine at the main entrance to City Hall, on Saturday, November 13, from 10:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m. This event is part of a national operation called the American Medicine Chest Challenge, which is sponsored in this area by the Sheriffs' Association of New Jersey and the Partnership for a Drug-Free New Jersey.

The Bayonne Police Department will have officers present at the drop-off site. The Hudson County Sheriff's Office is assisting the Bayonne Police Department in arranging for the collection of the disposed medicine.

This is the second drop-off day for unwanted, unused, and expired medicine this year in Bayonne. All medications will be accepted. No questions will be asked. All participants have the right to remain anonymous and to remove patients' names from medication bottles. People have the option of turning in medications within bottles or to dump out pills into receptacles at the collection site.

Syringes will NOT be accepted, because they are not considered medication. They are in the separate category of medical waste.

The purpose of the American Medicine Chest Challenge is to draw New Jersey residents' attention to the potential misuse and abuse of over-the-counter and prescription medicine. The goal of the program is to allow people to deliver all of their unused, unwanted, or expired medications to law enforcement officials who can dispose of these controlled substances in a safe and non-hazardous manner. Law enforcement agencies want to prevent these pills from falling into the hands of juveniles or into the illicit drug market in our area.

Unwanted prescription drugs should not be flushed down the toilet, because doing so is harmful to the environment.

HOROSCOPES ARIES - Mar 21/Apr 20 Aries, an interesting meeting with someone you haven't seen in a while gets you thinking about future projects. Creativity is flowing.
TAURUS - Apr 21/May 21 Taurus, a mistake has others wondering who is to blame, but you know the truth. Errors are inevitable, so don't let it get to you too much. Redemption is coming.
GEMINI - May 22/June 21 Gemini, what seemed like a chance encounter is turning out to be more of a routine meeting. Perhaps this person has feelings for you that have otherwise gone unexpressed.
CANCER - June 22/July 22 It's not like you to ask for help, Cancer. But this week even you can't take it all on. Talk to Scorpio or Aquarius for some ideas and a starting-off point. They'll be happy to assist.
LEO - July 23/Aug 23 Leo, you dug up a photograph and were laughing at how you looked only a few years back. Make a few new memories this week with close friends and family.
VIRGO - Aug 24/Sept 22 Virgo, mull over all the possibilities before looking for a job with a different organization. Don't give notice until you have something new already lined up.
LIBRA - Sept 23/Oct 23 Don't rely too much on chance, Libra. It will take a bit more planning to tackle something you need to get done in the days to come. Start thinking about it.
SCORPIO - Oct 24/Nov 22 Hold a loved one close, Scorpio, because you don't know when you may see this person again. It's best to make the most of every moment you have with family.

SAGITTARIUS - Nov 23/Dec 21 Sagittarius, if you rush through events you will hardly enjoy them. Linger and savor all of the sights and sounds of parties and special moments.
CAPRICORN - Dec 22/Jan 20 Capricorn, you're losing lots of energy because you have been running yourself ragged. If you don't take a break, then your body will take it for you.
AQUARIUS - Jan 21/Feb 18 Just when you thought you could circumvent something that would cost a lot of money, a new problem arises that will make avoidance impossible. Take it in stride.
PISCES - Feb 19/Mar 20 Pisces, a minor adjustment will give you an entirely new perspective. You know you'll be able to handle anything.
