'Deal or No Deal' gets a new deal from CNBC with game-show revival

By Jay Bobbin

Howie Mandel returns with "Deal or No Deal" as a revival of the game show premieres Wednesday on CNBC.

Here's the deal: It's time to get briefcases ready again for a certain game show.

"America's Got Talent's" Howie Mandel returns to host a revival of "Deal or No Deal" that starts Wednesday, Dec. 5, on CNBC (following a preview two nights earlier on the parent NBC network, the series' former home). Players again decide whether to keep a selected briefcase, not knowing if it contains one cent or $1 million, or trade it for what's offered by the person known as "The Banker."

Also an executive producer of "Deal or No Deal," Mandel has taped the new episodes at the Universal Orlando (Fla.) Resort. He reflects that when he was first approached about the program in 2005, "There were no comics hosting game shows, and I said 'No' to it three times. My wife told me to take the deal, and I took the deal.

"I'm not saying it because I'm trying to promote it," Mandel notes, "but this is real: There is no show I've ever been part of — or no project I've ever been part of — that has changed my life, that has changed my career, that is more exciting to be part of than 'Deal or No Deal.' For nine years, I've been trying to scratch and claw my way back onto this stage, and I can't thank CNBC enough for allowing me and our team this opportunity."

CNBC executive Jim Ackerman believes "Deal or No Deal" suits the network's business brand while also possibly expanding it. "In many ways, we feel like we're the perfect destination for 'Deal,'" he reasons. "There is the life-changing money at stake, the high-pressure balancing act between risk and reward. And at the heart of each game, there is story of someone looking for a shot at a better life. We are super-excited about this, but to do it, we needed to bring back the man at the center of the show. And we did."

That man, Mandel, cites what the appeal of "Deal or No Deal" remains for him. "I don't know if it's because of my age," he says, "but this show made me comfortable with just ... sharing the foibles and the weaknesses and the strengths of being human."

Several of the original "Deal or No Deal" models also are returning, but Season 2 featured a now-notable "Holder of Case No. 24": Meghan Markle, presently the Duchess of Sussex. "She was a very nice person," recalls executive producer Scott St. John. "I can't say that I saw anything extra-special. I mean, all the women that we have on the show are special." However, Mandel adds with tongue in cheek, "She was slightly duchessy."

A BAYONNE RESIDENT FOR A CENTURY

Last week, I had the pleasure of attending a 100th birthday party for Bayonne resident Rose Korbelak Obremski, who is in amazing shape for someone who has lived for a century.

Rose Korbelak was born to Stephen and Tatiana Korbelak on Mechanic Street in Bayonne on December 9, 1918. Her parents had moved from the Carpathian Mountains in southern Poland to Brooklyn, and then to Bayonne. The other children in the family were Annie, Margie, Jay, Nicky, Michael (Dorsey), Mary, Lizzy, and Theresa. Mr. Korbelak worked as a laborer in the oil industry and as a cooper for a barrel company. The Korbelaks, who were Carpatho-Rusyns, were founding members of Sts. Peter and Paul Orthodox Church in 1922.

Rose was educated at Lincoln School, Philip G. Vroom School, and Bayonne High School. She remembers taking violin lessons while at Vroom School.

She married John Obremski on November 18, 1943. Together, they had two children, Marion and John. During World War II, Rose and husband John met Babe Ruth in Upstate New York when John was home from the Army, recuperating from having been wounded. When Babe learned that Rose and John had no transportation to get back to this area, he drove them back himself. On another occasion, when John was hospitalized in Pennsylvania, Rose met cowboy entertainer Roy Rogers and his horse, Trigger.

During the war, Rose worked at Western Electric on the soldering line. Her boss called her "the sparkplug." She also worked at two stores on Broadway, Sylvette's and The Lido Shop. With her husband, Rose owned the Viking Tavern on Broadway between 40th and 41st Streets. The family lived above the bar. Her daughter still remembers when the delivery trucks came with big blocks of ice for the business. They also owned the Hideaway Tavern at 30th Street and Avenue E, across from the old City Hall. In addition to working for a living, Rose was also a volunteer at Bayonne Hospital for twenty-five years.

Rose has said, "I've lived in Bayonne for 100 years and I have no regrets. Bayonne is a wonderful city." Rose is one of the people who has made Bayonne great. Next year, we will be celebrating the 150th anniversary of the City of Bayonne. It is astounding that she has been with us for two-thirds of that history. Happy 100th birthday to Rose Korbelak Obremski!

HOROSCOPES ARIES - Mar 21/Apr 20 Aries, you can be quite generous when you choose to be, but sometimes you can overlook the needs of others. Pay as much attention to others' needs as possible this week.

TAURUS - Apr 21/May 21 Little things influence how others look at you, Taurus, so make sure you get all of your ducks in a row -- especially at work. Focus on some finer details.

GEMINI - May 22/June 21 You may not be in a practical mood this week, Gemini. Fortunately for you, there isn't much of importance that needs to be done, so you are free to let loose a little bit.

CANCER - June 22/July 22 This isn't a week to take a walk down Memory Lane, Cancer. Focus on the future rather than getting lost in nostalgia. However, let your past guide your actions a bit.

LEO - July 23/Aug 23 Leo, your calendar is filling up quickly, but you cannot add any days to the calendar. Divide your responsibilities so you can better handle everything on your slate.

VIRGO - Aug 24/Sept 22 Ambivalence will get you nowhere fast, Virgo. It can be difficult to make decisions, but that's something you have to do this week. Once you do, you can forge ahead.

LIBRA - Sept 23/Oct 23 Libra, you are capable of making intelligent, objective decisions. Expect to find yourself with a growing list of new friends who want your advice.

SCORPIO - Oct 24/Nov 22 Now is not the time to begin a new project,

Scorpio. Rather, keep a low profile and finish up any tasks that you did not get to finish last week.

SAGITTARIUS - Nov 23/Dec 21 Sagittarius, it's difficult to get a good read on any associates or friends, which could impact your plans moving forward. You may need to make a few assumptions and back track later.

CAPRICORN - Dec 22/Jan 20 Capricorn, right now all you can think about is your career and your financial future. That's okay because you've been meaning to give more thought to your finances and how to proceed.

AQUARIUS - Jan 21/Feb 18 Aquarius, you may feel yourself pulled in two different directions this week. There's a part of you that is focused on home, and another that knows work beckons. Find a balance.

PISCES - Feb 19/Mar 20 It may seem like getting others to open up is a struggle this week. Find a way to communicate as best you can, Pisces.

Magic brings a young CEO's childhood doll to life in Freeform's 'Life-Size 2'

By George Dickie

In a sequel to a 2000 episode of "Wonderful World of Disney," "Grown-ish" actress Francia Raisa stars as a young executive who gets lessons in how to live from a childhood doll brought magically to life in a holiday telepic airing this week on Freeform.

In "Life-Size 2," premiering Sunday, Dec. 2, as part of the cablenet's "25 Days of Christmas" programming event, Raisa stars as Grace, a young woman in the midst of a quarter-life crisis, who was forced to grow up early after her mother, the CEO of a toy company, was sent to prison.

Inheriting the top position at Marathon Toys, Grace is in over her head in the role, and her party-animal ways have sent the company's stock price plummeting, much to the consternation of the board. But she has a loyal friend in young next-door neighbor Lex (Alison Fernandez, "Logan"), whose book of magic spells brings her childhood toy Eve (Tyra Banks, reprising her 2000 role) to life, giving Grace an innocent, wide-eyed companion whose behavior she's repeatedly forced to explain. But, as she learns, Eve is also someone to emulate.

"Eve is just really in touch with her inner child and the imagination that we all lose once we go into college or go into the real world and learn about taxes and W-2s and everything," Raisa explains.

"(My character) is an only child," she continues, "and I was really young and the relationship with my mother was a bit complicated because she had to run a company and I felt a bit neglected. Still, having to inherit the company I felt took my mother away from me was really hard on me and I was a bit resentful for it. ... It was like a big F-you to her mom, not taking care of it."

In some ways, Raisa identified with her character. Having worked as an actress since 15, the 30-year-old also found herself

'Tis the season for many things. Some of those things include the incoming of cold weather! With that in mind, it's good to know that there is a nearby, furrier to find the warmest styles and utterly precious gifts for that someone special. If you or someone you know would love being in the comforting style of a beautiful fur coat, look no further than Famous Furs. Located at 610 Broadway, Famous Furs allows you to wrap your loved ones up in luxury.

With Stephen Weinberg as the owner and operator of Famous Furs, you are sure to receive only the finest quality along with excellent service. He is proud to be the third generation furrier in the same family that started the company. They've been serving the tri state area for over 100 years, as Famous Furs has been in the family since 1915. What you get here is more than a coat to keep you warm; you get a coat that looks amazing. While fur coats at the specialty of the store they also use exotic skins such as python, crocodile and other luxury fabrics. You can also find matching hats, vests and other accessories.

Famous Furs cares so much about getting you the style you crave that they do special orders for custom made and remodeling to recreate a piece that you loved before and will again.

A business is only as good as its customer-base. If that is true, then Famous Furs is good to go. They have multi generational clientele. Their customers are friends who have brought in other friends and relatives who have done the same. When the business is good, it's not easy to keep it to yourself! New Jersey is lucky to have such a dependable furrier for such a long time.

While some may have the misconception that Famous Furs is simply a store that sells luxurious furs, others are happy to inform you that they do so much more. They also manufacture, design, service, clean, repair, remodel and offer refrigerated storage for your fur. Once you purchase your fur, it is cared for in the same place for the duration of your ownership of it.

The time is now. Make this the time that you decide to get a unique and cherished piece of luxury for someone you love - even if that someone is yourself! Call now for more information at 201-858-4440 or 201-432-5200. Also, check out more details at www.famousfurs.com. Make this holiday the most luxurious one yet!

THE BOLD AND THE BEAUTIFUL Brooke attempted to put Ridge's mind at ease about her private conversation with Bill. Quinn got upset when Eric mandated that she add Pam and Charlie to the Thanksgiving guest list. Quinn became further irate when she overheard Pam playing cupid for Donna and Eric. Steffy and Liam discussed baby Kelly's future while Hope looked on, assuring herself that one day this would be her future too. While Thorne was at work, Katie gave Bill the legal papers for shared custody. The Forresters, Logans, Spencers, Avants and Spectras gathered for their traditional Thanksgiving dinner, setting aside their grievances and saying something kind to the person next to them. Wait to See: Zoe's father, Dr. Reese Buckingham, arrives in L.A.

DAYS OF OUR LIVES Gabi gleefully admitted to Abigail that she'd been "gaslighting" her all along. Jennifer ripped into Chad for the way he treated her daughter. Ben exposed Tripp's deception to Ciara. Lani found Eli and Sheila in a compromising position. Ciara and Tripp's relationship imploded when she couldn't deny her feelings for Ben. Paul shared an emotional goodbye with John and Brady before leaving Salem. Abe received some stunning news from Valerie. Adrienne and Justin were furious when Victor kept Will from reuniting with Sonny. Ben ended his alliance with Claire. Sarah invited Eric to Thanksgiving. Wait to See:

Bryton James stars as "Devon" on "The Young and The Restless."

ing him credit for the boutique idea. Nick asked Phyllis to move in with him. Devon told Jack that he wasn't just putting up a brave front, but later on, in private, he broke down while looking at Hilary's pictures. Sharon politely turned down Billy's advances, and the two decided to remain strictly friends. Charlie and Mattie celebrated Thanksgiving as best they could without their mother there. Wait to See: Victoria issues a threat.

The Williamses hold Thanksgiving dinner at Doug's Place.

GENERAL HOSPITAL Ava manipulated Franco. Monica spent the day with Oscar. Drew alienated Kim. Sam was really impressed with Julian. Stella was taken aback. Laura felt overwhelmed by what she'd learned. Jordan was majorly surprised. Maxi and Lulu reflected on the past. Spinelli did Carly a favor. Nina tore into Ava. Laura realized she had terrible timing. Oscar felt conflicted. Jason paid Sam a visit. In a classic episode from the year 2000, Sonny and Carly spent their first Thanksgiving together: Sonny had just made a deal with Laura and returned home to a sad Carly. He was able to comfort her by cheering on her new partnership at work. Wait to See: Maxie and Peter share an important moment.

THE YOUNG AND THE RESTLESS Summer made Kyle dance with her at the Jabotique party, which sent Lola running off in tears. Fortunately, she didn't see the kiss that Summer planted on Kyle. Determined to win Abby back, Arturo followed her to the Abbott house, but she refused to let him in. Phyllis surprised Billy by giving

By Tony Rizzo

HOLLYWOOD — Zac Efron, who showed his musical skills in last year's "The Greatest Showman," has completed shooting the comedy "Beach Bum," with Matthew McConaughey, Isla Fisher and Jonah Hill, for a March 22 release. Efron plays serial killer Ted Bundy in "Extremely Wicked, Shockingly Evil and Vile," with Lily Collins, Jim Parsons and John Malkovich (now in post-production), and is headed for "Blood Moon," with Kate Hudson and Craig Robinson. It may get a name change, as there have been four previous films with the same title.

Mel Gibson, worth an estimated $425 million, is making up for the time lost when he was in trouble with four upcoming films. He's filmed "Professor and the Madman," with Sean Penn, Jeremy Irvine and Natalie Dormer; the crime thriller "Dragged Across Concrete," with Vince Vaughn and Don Johnson; the sci-fi action film "Boss Level," with Naomi Watts, Frank Grillo, Ken Jeong and Rob Gronkowski; and the thriller "Waldo" (for next summer) with Charlie Hunnam. Time seems to heal all wounds.

Italian film star Roberto Benigni won a best-actor Oscar for "Life is Beautiful" (1997), climbing over movie stars and seats to get the award from Sophia Loren (wouldn't you?), then took on the title role, at 50, of "Pinocchio" (which bombed) in 2002.

Zac Efron

Benigni now plans to try again, this time (at 66) as Geppetto, which shoots in Italy next year. He was last billed behind Woody Allen and Alec Baldwin in Allen's 2012 film "To Rome With Love." Emily Blunt, soon to delight in "Mary Poppins Returns" (in theaters Dec. 19), is boarding Dwayne Johnson's "Jungle Cruise," with Jack Whitehall and Paul Giamatti (which doesn't arrive until 2020), while husband John Krasinski is shooting season two of Amazon's "Jack Ryan" TV series. ***

Warner Brothers and Bradley Cooper, who made "A Star Is Born," and 20th Century Fox, which made "Bohemian Rhapsody," have submitted their films for the Golden Globes in the drama category instead of the musical/comedy category, preferring not to be lumped with "Mary Poppins Returns," "Mamma Mia, Here We Go Again," Natalie Portman's "Vox Lux" and comedies.

Did you know that "Bohemian Rhapsody's" Queen composed and performed the score for the 1980 film "Flash Gordon," with Sam

Jones (as Flash), Max Von Sydow and former James Bond Timothy Dalton? "Flash Gordon" was a movie serial from 1936-1938 with Olympic gold medal swimmer Buster Crabbe, and a Syfy series in 2007-08. Now they want to remake it in IMAX and 3D. Sam Jones was discovered by producer Dino DeLaurentis when he saw him on "The Dating Game." The film barely broke even.

Colicchio and 'Top Chef' find a new Kentucky home in Season 16

Say "Kentucky" to most people and you'll likely conjure mental images of horse races and bottles of fine whiskey. And both come into play as Bravo's "Top Chef" heads to the Bluegrass State for its 16th season, which gets underway Thursday Dec. 6, as 15

Tom Colicchio and Padma Lakshmi

Along the way, judges Tom Colicchio, Graham Elliot, Nilou Motamed and Gail Simmons and host Padma Lakshmi got to take in the 2018 Kentucky Derby at Churchill Downs, watch the contestants cook for Laila Ali at the Muhammad Ali Center, oversee a buzzer beater showdown at Rupp Arena with University of Kentucky basketball coach Jon Calipari and visit the Maker's Mark bourbon distillery.

"Kentucky was fun, actually," Colicchio, the head judge, reports. "I hadn't spent much time there, so it was good to see that part of the country. You know, we were there for the Derby, which was a lot of fun. It was something I always wanted to do and never had an opportunity to get to, so that was a lot of fun. ... Some of the local foods and stuff really came into play nicely. Obviously, bourbon does and so it was a good couple of weeks I spent there."

In fact, one of the highlights of the May-June lming for Colicchio was overseeing a competition at the Maker's Mark distillery in the tiny town of Loretto.

"It's really an amazing operation ..., " Colicchio says. "They're producing a lot of bourbon but really high-quality bourbon ... it's quite an operation. And we did shoot there. We had just a great day there. It was, from what I recall, a beautiful sunny day and we were kind of in between the distillery and a few rickhouses and the setting was really great. That was fun."

And, of course, there was the Kentucky cuisine, of which the contestants were tasked with coming up with their own interpretations. One was a very popular dish known as burgoo, which is a spicy stew made from game meat. "For the most part, we were using local ingredients," Colicchio explains. "We used some local beef that was really good. There's things like local soy sauce that's being produced that's really, really good. So we did use some local products as well."

"But I think what happens with the chefs is that they know they're going to Kentucky, they start studying, they started doing some homework, and then I think they also leaned heavily on a contestant that was from Kentucky just to sort of understand the culture a little better."

chefs from across the country compete for the title amid the unique culinary scenes of Louisville, Lexington and Lake Cumberland before heading to Macao, China, for the final showdown.
